Attachment to Donation of Water Right to the State Trust Water Right Program: SWR 5772(c)

Water right being donated to trust:

The water right being donated to trust (SWR 5772(c)) is the (c) portion as approved for change and transfer by the Lincoln County Water Conservancy Board Record of Decision and Report of Examination dated December 13, 2010 (Attachment 1) and by the Washington State Department of Ecology letter dated March 3, 2011 modifying the Conservancy Board Decision (Attachment 2). The change and transfer approval authorizes groundwater withdrawal under the water right for multiple domestic supply and irrigation uses.

Beneficial use during last five years:

Beneficial use of the full quantity of the water right being donated to trust (40 af/y and 80 gpm) during the last five years was confirmed by the Conservancy Board and DOE through the change and transfer process. Evidence of historic use supporting the change and transfer included irrigation use, with the highest use occurring during the 2008 and 2009 irrigation seasons, both of which were within the five years preceding the donation.

Purpose of donation to trust:

The donation is being made both for groundwater preservation and for instream flow purposes because the authorized point of groundwater withdrawal was determined through the change process to be in direct hydraulic continuity with surface water, i.e., the Columbia River (Lake Roosevelt).

Terms of donation:

The donation is a temporary donation of the entire water right for a period of five years.

Upon 30 days' notice to Ecology at any time or from time to time, Hanson Harbor, Inc. may withdraw all or part of the donated water rights from the Washington State Trust Water Right Program.

Upon written notice to Ecology provided at least 30 days' prior to expiration of the donation period, Hanson Harbor Inc. may request an extension in the time period of the temporary donation.
